

state of peace is desirable, there is no necessity for repealing the original war resolution. Usually a treaty of peace acts as an automatic repeal of a war resolution.

The specific repeal in this case, however, is looked upon as carrying dangerous consequences of a legal nature. The argument is made that such a repeal may invalidate many acts of the Government done under the authority of the war resolution. But fundamentally the objection to it is sentimental. Many members of Congress believe it may be regarded as an expression of regret for the original declaration of war.

The United States Government has placed itself irrevocably alongside its associates in the war by the decision to participate in all councils on questions growing out of the European conflict.

Any hope that America would act as part of a neutral as between the Allies and Germany has been swept away. When a new treaty is negotiated, either with the Versailles pact as a basis or as a pattern, the Germans will get small comfort out of it.

Harrison Seen Wilson's Plans Accepted.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—President Harding's acceptance of the Allies' invitation for American representation in the Supreme Council means the acceptance, ultimately, of the plans of former President Wilson, in 1918, Senator Harrison, Republican, Democrat, declared in the Senate today.

Harrison visited the Republicans after having received themselves on their promise to keep out of European affairs. He called attention to "the amusing picture of George Harvey, now American Ambassador to Great Britain, sitting in the Allied Supreme Council with those men against whom he has poured out his criticism."

The League of Nations will finally come around all right," he said. "That is what this all means. It means that the Senate will finally come to accept in detail the plans Wilson approved."

delivered to Ambassador Geddes, says in part:

The Government of the United States, while maintaining the traditional policy of abstention from participation in matters of distinctly European concern, is deeply interested in the proper economic adjustments and in the just settlement of the matters of world-wide importance which are under discussion in the conference, and desires helpfully to co-operate in the deliberation upon these questions.

Mr. George Harvey, appointed Ambassador to Great Britain, will be instructed on his arrival in England to take part as the representative of the President of the United States in the deliberations of the Supreme Council. The American Ambassador to France will be instructed to resume his place as unofficial observer on the Conference of Ambassadors, and Mr. Roland W. Boyden will be instructed to sit again in an unofficial capacity on the Reparation Commission.

The Government of the United States notes with pleasure your expression of the belief of the representatives of the Allied Governments assembled in London that American co-operation in the settlement of the great international questions growing out of the World War will be of material assistance.
